

Complete this form only if you are applying to the Johnston Center for Integrative Studies.

This supplement is designed to give us some idea of your academic and personal interests, to find out what excites you about education and to help determine whether Johnston can meet your needs.

APPLICANT

Legal Name _____ Birthdate _____
Last, First, Middle Initial Month/Date/Year

PLEASE ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS. YOU MAY SUBMIT THEM BY EMAIL TO ADMISSIONS@REDLANDS.EDU OR UPLOAD THEM USING THE WRITING SUPPLEMENTS OPTION IN THE COMMON APPLICATION. THEY SHOULD BE SUBMITTED IN WORD OR PDF FORMAT ONLY.

These are open-ended questions with no right or wrong answers. We encourage you to be creative in answering them.

1. From all that you know about the Johnston Center, what single feature most excites you, and why?
2. What interests you about participating in an educational community that combines living and learning?
3. How do you imagine your education will be transformed by receiving evaluations rather than numerical grades?
4. When did you most like school? When did you least like school? Describe the circumstances.
5. Describe an experience you have had in a cultural setting different from your own. If you have not had such an opportunity, tell us what you might like to do in the future.
6. Describe an experience when you discovered a connection between things you were learning in different subjects (for example, between math and music or economics and literature).
7. A full Johnston education asks students to:
 - participate in the living-learning community
 - participate in a cross cultural experience
 - self-govern through consensus
 - write and receive narrative evaluations instead of numerical grades
 - integrate modes of learning

Do you have any questions about these values and practices?

8. How did you find out about the Johnston Center?

A student applying to the Johnston Center must apply for admission to the University of Redlands and complete this supplement. For additional information please contact:

Office of Admissions * 1200 E Colton Ave * PO Box 3080 * Redlands CA 92374-0999
Phone: (909) 748-8074 Toll-Free: (800) 455-5064 Email: admissions@redlands.edu